

APPENDIX III

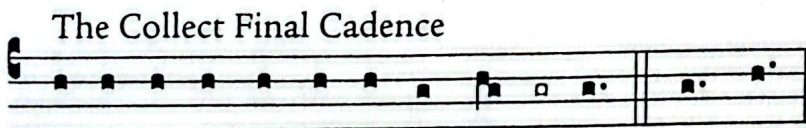

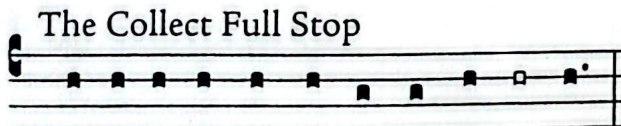

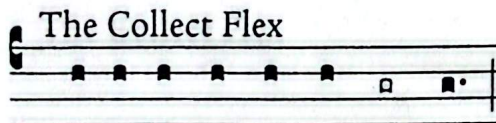

THE CHANT OF THE COLLECTS

§ 1. Two Methods and their Origins.

THERE are two distinct methods for chanting the Collects at Matins and Evensong (including the Collect of the Day, the Commemorations, and the fixed Collects). The first method is the most ancient, and was used in the Roman Rite until modern times. The second method is more modern (or perhaps late medieval), and is most commonly used in parishes today.

§ 2. The Ancient Method.

THIS method, unlike the later Collect Tones, makes no distinction between Festal (i.e. on Sundays and Holy Days) and Ferial (i.e. on weekdays which are not feasts). This Tone traditionally is used for the Collects at Mass, as well as the Collects at the Daily Office. It is used on any day in any season. This Collect Tone consists of the Reciting Note (Recitation), Flex, Full Stop (Punctum or Cadence), and the Final Cadence (Conclusion).

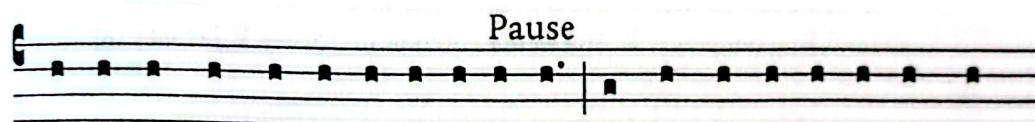

A - men.

The first syllable of the Collect is always sung one whole step lower than the Reciting Note. The Flex is made at the first or second sub-division in the Collect.

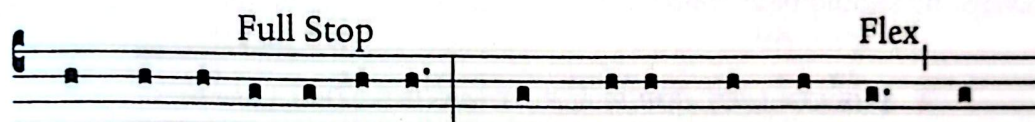

ALMIGHTY and most merciful God, grant, we beseech thee, that

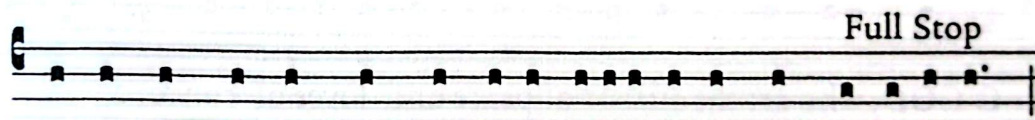

The Full Stop is made at the conclusion of the sentence or independent clause, such as at the period or semi-colon. After the Flex or Full Stop, and after any pause, the first syllable of the next word is sung a whole step lower than the Recitation. Note that, if the prayer is long, the Full Stop may be repeated, with the condition that the Full Stop is never used without the Flex preceding it.

by the indwelling of thy Holy Spirit, we may be enlighten-ed and strengthen-ed for thy service; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the same Spirit ever,

The Final Cadence is used at the conclusion of the Doxology, immediately before the "Amen." When a full Doxology is sung (e.g. "Through Jesus Christ . . . world without end") the Flex is used at the first sub-division of the Doxology, with the Final Cadence at the end of the Doxology. Should a short Doxology be used (as in the fixed Collects of the Daily Office), it is permissible to employ the Full Stop at the end, without being preceded by the Flex.

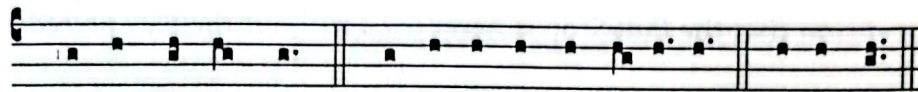

one God, world without end. Amen.

The ancient Collect Tone also has its own tones for the Salutation and Response, as follows:

∩. The Lord be with you. ⚡. And with thy spirit. ∩. Let us pray.

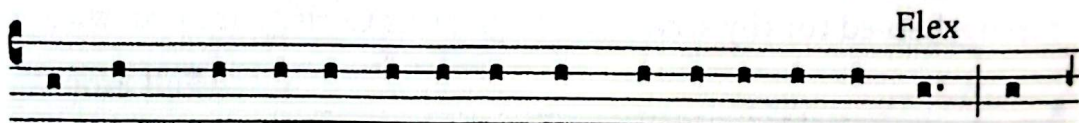

(Or, for Officiants who are not in Holy Orders:)

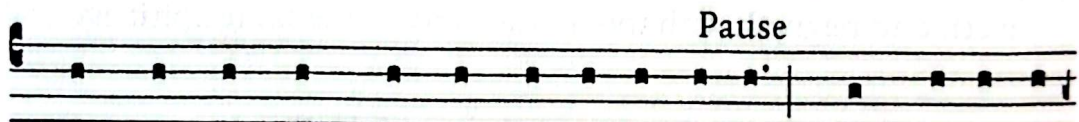

∩. O Lord, hear our pray'r. ⚡. And let our cry come un-to thee. ∩. Let us pray.

Following these rules, the chanting of the fixed Collects at Matins and Evensong should be as follows:

THE COLLECT FOR PEACE AT MATINS. Deus Auctor pacis.

O GOD, who art the author of peace and lover of concord, in knowledge of whom standeth our e - ter-nal life, whose service is perfect freedom; Defend us thy humble servants in all assaults of our enemies, that we, surely trusting in thy defence, may not fear the power of any ad-ver-sar-ies, through the might of Jesus Christ

our Lord. Amen.

THE COLLECT FOR GRACE AT MATINS. Domine sancte.

O LORD, our heavenly Father, Almighty and ev-er-lasting God, who hast safely brought us to the beginning of this day; Defend us in the same with thy mighty power; and grant that this day we fall into no sin, neither run into any kind of danger; but that all our doings, being order-ed by thy governance, may be righteous in thy sight; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE COLLECT FOR PEACE AT EVENSONG. Deus, a quo sancta.

O GOD, from whom all holy desires, all good counsels, and all just works do proceed; Give unto thy servants that peace which the world cannot give; that our hearts may be set to obey thy commandments, and also that by thee, we being defended from the fear of our enemies, may pass our time in rest and quietness;

through the merits of Jesus Christ our Saviour. *Amen.*THE COLLECT FOR AID AT EVENSONG. Illumina, quaesumus.

LIGHTEN our darkness, we beseech thee, O Lord; and by thy great mercy defend us from all perils and dangers of this night;

for the love of thy only Son, our Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

§ 2. The Later Method.

THE later method of chanting Collects, perhaps late medieval but probably modern (15th to 16th centuries), does make a distinction between the Festal tone (i.e. on Sundays and Holy Days) and the Ferial tone (i.e. on weekdays which are not feasts). This Tone is also used for the Collects at Mass, as well as the Collects at the Daily Office.

The Ferial tone is quite simple – the Collect is sung monotone throughout, with no inflections or cadences (hence it has a very austere and penitential character, suitable to non-feasts and fast days). This tone is never used on Sundays, even Sundays in Lent.

The Festal tone, however, does make use of certain simple tonal inflections and cadences, based on the structure of the Collect. Hence, the Officiant who wishes to chant Collects in this manner must be aware of the basic construction of the average Collect. One may take the Collect for Easter Day (from the Prayer Book) to illustrate these basic elements.

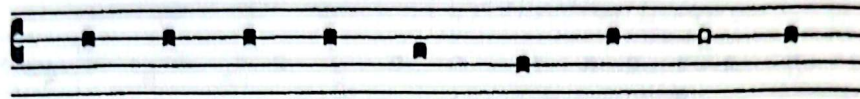

THE ADDRESS is an invocation of God, including a description of a Divine attribute or act: "Almighty God, who through thine only-begotten Son Jesus Christ hast overcome death, and opened unto us the gate of everlasting life."

THE PETITION is a statement of the object of the prayer: "we humbly beseech thee, that, as by thy special grace preventing us thou dost put into our minds good desires,"

THE OBLATION sets forth the reason why God should be pleased to answer our prayer: "so by thy continual help we may bring the same to good effect."

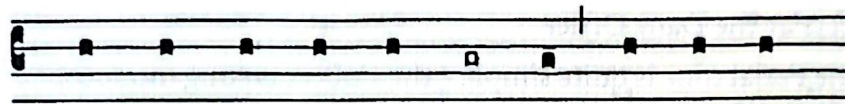

THE DOXOLOGY usually indicates that we ask these things of the Father through the Name of Jesus, in the unity of the Holy Ghost: "Through the same Jesus Christ our Lord: Who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end."

The two simple inflections used in the chant of the Collect follow the construction of these parts of the Collect. The Metrum (or, Cadence) is applied to the closing syllables of the Address, as well as to the closing syllables of the Doxology. In other words, the Metrum usually occurs at the end of the first part of the Collect, and always at the very end of the Collect before the "Amen."

vi - sit us in great hu - mil - i - ty;
 to hear the pray'rs of thy peo - ple
 gate of ev - er - last - ing life;

The Flex is applied to the Petition and the Oblation. It consists of one or two notes which are sung one step below the Reciting Note.

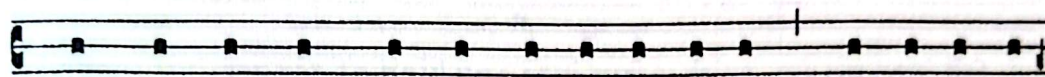

free from all ad - ver - si - ties,
 the King in his beau - ty, who with thee, etc.
 same thy Son Je - sus Christ, who liv-eth, etc.

However, the Officiant must keep in mind that not all Collects are "textbook cases" as is the above Easter Collect. For instance, some Collects greatly shorten or omit the Address, and skip directly to the Petition. In this case, the Metrum is used in place of the Flex for the Petition. Other Collects of the Prayer Book may omit the Oblation (although it is common for Oblations to be added at the discretion of the Celebrant in these cases), in which case it is permissible also to use the Metrum instead of the Flex. Still other Collects, especially from the Prayer Book and modern sources, are quite lengthy and flowery (in stark contrast to the concise and austere Roman Collects of the ancient Sacramentaries). In this case, it would be up to the discretion of the Officiant to add as many Flexes as necessary to natural breaks of phrases or groups of phrases in the middle of the Collect. When all else fails, the Officiant should remember that the Metrum is applied to the first phrase of the Collect, the Flex to the phrases in the middle of the Collect, and the Metrum again to the last phrase of the Collect.

Following these rules, the chanting of the fixed Collects at Matins and Evensong should be as follows:

THE COLLECT FOR PEACE AT MATINS. Deus Auctor pacis.

O GOD, who art the author of peace and lover of concord, in knowledge of whom standeth our e - ter-nal life, whose service is
